Welcome to Shiloh Pond

Shiloh Pond Community Forest is Kingfield's first publicly owned land. This 215-acre "Community Forest" was a three-year project led by the High Peaks Alliance, the Trust for Public Land, and Kingfield residents.

For decades, Shiloh Pond was privately owned yet accessible to the public. When it went up for sale, residents feared it might be developed, restricting public access.

Today, the Shiloh Pond Community Forest is conserved and open for non-motorized recreational use.
